CB-26P Fitting position

Honda NSX – Rover 827 Coupe/Vitesse

David Price - a very experienced motoring journalist who writes for a number of Classic Car magazines as well as the 'Driving' section in The Sunday Times - got us to fit a CB-26P to his superb Rover 827 Coupe; one of the most luxurious (and expensive) cars ever made by Rover.

Although he doesn't normally write about gadgets he made an exception in this case and wrote a piece for the Sunday Times in January 2003. Here is his V6 Honda unit - same engine as the Honda NSX - before completing his research this was his first reaction: "haven't done an MPG check yet but it's made a resounding improvement to the Honda V6's lack of low end grunt - it feels a lot (20% ?) torquier and there's just a touch more up top too - top product".

Thanks David - his final comments appeared in THE SUNDAY TIMES
